have adopted a policy of watchful waiting.

PERMANENT HOME FOR LOCAL SALVATION ARMY CORPS IS ADVISORY BOARD SUGGESTION

In furtherance of the plans of the division of the Salvation Army having headquarters in Pittsburgh to provide a permanent home in the county where army corps have been established, Captain H. N. Gesner, of the headquarters staff, last night suggested to the Advisory Board of the Connellsville District, the advisability of giving consideration to plans for housing the local corps in a home of its own.

Captain Gesner came to Connellsville in place of Adjutant Hickey who was obliged to fill another engagement. In his address to the board Captain Gesner pointed out the inconvenience and handicaps under which the local corps operates from its present quarters, and the lack of facilities for taking up several army activities which are being successfully conducted in other centers where permanent homes have been provided. The increasing importance of the Salvation Army as an agency for good in the community justifies an attempt being made, Captain Gesner said, to secure a building which can be better adapted to that use than the present quarters.

As a means of financing the enterprise Captain Gesner suggested that when the campaign for the annual contribution fund is put on next November the fund be made to include a sum which can be applied to the building fund. This method could be put into effect for two, three or more years, as was deemed advisable for the distribution of the expense over a period of time, and thus avoid making the total of the budget an excessive amount in any one year. Captain Gesner said the army had experienced no difficulty in placing mortgages on homes under this plan and that the method had been generally successful wherever homes have been established.

The proposition was regarded by the advisory board as one of such magnitude and importance that resolutions should be given to its consideration.

CANNED MEAT 8,000 YEARS OLD IN GOOD STATE PRESERVATION

By Associated Press.

LUXOR, Egypt, Jan. 20.—What are believed to be the oldest specimens of canned meat in the world, have been discovered by excavators in the tomb of King Tutankhamun.
While it was not wholly palatable, being 3,500 years old, the meat is in an excellent state of preservation.
The meat had been embalmed and was contained in algalipal receptacles, resembling huge Easter eggs, 40 of which were removed from the tomb amid the deep interest of a crowd of tourists.

Negress With Automatic Breaks Up Party of Her Husband and His Affinity

Ed Anderson, a negro living at Gilmore works, was late coming home Friday night. His wife, Ada, heard him come. She also noted that he stopped on the porch and she heard him talking to a woman.

Seeing a 25 calibre automatic pistol she made her way quietly to the door. Throwing it open she saw her husband's arm about one of two women. "Ed, I don't want you to do this," she exclaimed, and fired two shots, neither of which hit the mark.
By that time the entire husband had succeeded in getting a huge weapon—a .45, which County Detective John J.
Russell said was one of the largest he ever saw—from his pocket and he had pulled the trigger twice when Mrs. Anderson again began pumping the automatic and before he could get to a third shot he had crumpled on the floor with one bullet near the heart and another in the abdomen.

NEGRO KILLS PASSENGER, IS ALSO KILLED

As the result of a serious shooting affray aboard Baltimore & Ohio train No. 5 at Cumberland last night two men, one a negro and the other a white man, are dead. The negro killed Nolan B. Hoenescamp, 39, of New Lexington, Pa., a passenger, and was then slain by Captain L. J.
Schmidt of the Baltimore & Ohio police at Cumberland. The negro was identified as Johnnie Richardson of Bourbon, Ala.

The trouble began at Washington, D. C., when the negro threatened the conductor, displaying a revolver and later became violent in a way, defying anyone to take him out. A telegram was sent to Cumberland and to Baltimore, meet the train and take the negro off.

Captain Schmidt and his men met the train at the station and passengers were held back. Hoenescamp, however, happened to be in the train ahead of the officer. The negro, still in the lavatory, fired and Hoenescamp dropped.

The officer reached in to the door and fired five shots at random. Since following he investigated and found a shot in the head had actually wounded the gunman. Richardson and Hen-escamp were hurried to the hospital but a physician said both had died almost instantly. A J. Macchauer, another passenger, suffered cuts from glass when he jumped from a window.

Wallace Reid Lavish Spender

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 20.—Although he was one of the highest paid motion picture stars and his income during the past few years totaled more than $1,000,000, Wallace Reid left an estate estimated at considerably less than $500,000, it was learned today.

Reid's immense fortune, however, in close touch with his financial affairs said, dwindled so that for months prior to his death he was practically dependent upon $500 a week given him by the Lasky Company. With his comparatively small estate, Reid left $250,000 in life insurance.

A mile and a half of this road, from the Smithton end, was built about a year ago and it is understood that another mile and a half will be built next summer. at 7:30, subject of sermon, "If I Were a Millionaire." In this kind of opportunity, under our economic system, to the average person this question presents a supposable case; although the contingency may be more or less remote in the case of a minister of the gospel. Is the possession of a million dollars to be considered an asset or a liability? Does the world need more millionaires? What of the stewardship of filigotten gains?

Is a millionaire a blessing to the pauper? Can a man earn a million dollars within his life time? What would you do if you should come into possession of a million dollars?

THIS YEAR we are combining the Annual Remnant Days with our January Clearance Sale and the result is a bonanza of bargains such as has seldom been seen in Connellsville. These Sales are planned to free our stocks of all odd lots and other merchandise groups that we would rather not carry over into another season. And this determination to clear our shelves is reflected in the very low prices that will prevail throughout the store while this event is in progress. Women can prove that they are thrifty by being here when the doors open in the morning. The Sale is in full swing today.
